

GUEST CURATORS

Rahul Arora

Exhibit: "America in Circulation"

Rahul Arora is a financial historian and collector/dealer in numismatics. His specific areas of expertise are in US paper money from the Colonial Era to post Civil War federal issue. Rahul graduated from Rider University with a BA in Computer Information Systems and has held various tech positions in investment banking.

Ric Edelman

Exhibits: "The Future of Finance," "Personal Finance"

Barron's named Ric Edelman the nation's #1 Independent Financial Advisor three times. He's in two Halls of Fame and received three Lifetime Achievement Awards. He's the #1 New York Times bestselling author of 14 books on personal finance, founding head of Rowan University's School of Financial Planning and founding executive director of the Personal Finance Institute. He is also a trustee of the Museum of American Finance.

Mark J. Higgins

Exhibits: "Alexander Hamilton Experience," "A Financial Revolution," "Investing in US Financial History"

Mark J. Higgins, CFA is the author of Investing in US Financial History and a leading authority on American capital markets. His work applies financial history to improve decision making in the present. It draws on three centuries of market cycles, from Alexander Hamilton's founding vision to the complexities of today's evolving investment landscape. He serves on the editorial board of Financial History, the Museum of American Finance's quarterly magazine.

Richard Sylla

Exhibits: "Alexander Hamilton Experience," "A Financial Revolution," "Hub of Innovation"

Richard Sylla is a professor emeritus of economics at the NYU Stern School of Business and one of the foremost financial historians in the United States. He has spent decades studying Alexander Hamilton's economic vision and its lasting influence on American and global finance. He is a trustee and former board chair of the Museum of American Finance.